"TOO ECONOMICAL?"

Chairman, Hanson, of the Democratic committee, has at last discovered an argument against Assemblyman Chandler. He is afraid Chandler would be "too economical"—afraid, perhaps, that the assemblyman would not be duly appreciative of the proper salary needs of the deputy district attorneyship. Also he is sure that Chandler would stand as a legislator like a rock of Gibraltar against the county division scheme in whose favor he was lobbying in Sacramento only last year.

Let nobody have fear that Mr. Chandler will be "too economical." He will be economical enough, and we need economists. He opposed last year, and he will oppose again, hiring eighty doorkeepers to stand around three doors. He has opposed in the past, and will continue to oppose, paying three prices for public supplies. He will insist on every expenditure being rigidly scrutinized, as it ought to be. And that is the sort of economy the people want more of. But Mr. Chandler will not be narrow or rigidly, in the matter of economy, or anything else. He is a man who is liberal in his personal affairs and in his business. He is a director in companies which have spent huge sums recently in improvements and is accustomed to large affairs and to dealing in the expenditures they require. He has, moreover, in those companies been an advocate of a liberal policy in the purchase and price of oil. In fact, to any one who knows Mr. Chandler, the statement is so ridiculous that nothing but its respectable source justifies noticing it at all.

As to Candidate Odom, nobody supposes that he will break his solemn public pledge to oppose county division in the legislature. For ourselves we credit him unconditionally. But we do not believe that, under the circumstances, Mr. Odom or any one similarly circumstanced, could possibly make that pledge effective. The bill will come up—Kings county will bring it up, and Assemblyman Stanton of Los Angeles will bring up a similar bill for the division of Los Angeles county. The fight will have to be made, and Mr. Odom, if he were in the legislature, would be absolutely handicapped by his own record as a lobbyist the other way last year. He would also be handicapped by lack of experience and acquaintance, and by being repudiated by certain members of his own community lobbying in Sacramento next year who he lobbied last year. It is an emergency in which we need a tried-out man. Assemblyman Chandler has emphatically "made good" in the legislature. This is the time to return him.

THE DEMOCRATIC REMEDY

Orator Foote is of the opinion that the question of a tariff on raisins does not amount to much, but he would like some governmental action to break up the "seedier trust."

Well, he can get it, by electing Democratic congressmen and having them apply the Democratic remedy. And this is that remedy:

The Democratic platform demands that all trust-produced goods be put on the free list. At the present time, raisins are trust-made. Nearly all raisins are seeded, and the seedling business has been absorbed by an iron-clad trust. Also, that trust sometimes sells surplus goods abroad cheaper than the market price at home. Therefore, by all the tests of Democratic platforms and Democratic oratory, raisins should be on the free list.

This is the Democratic remedy applied to the industry, we understand best. It is the Democratic policy of striking at the whole industry, instead of the trust feature of it. It ignores the interests of the thousands of independent producers whose welfare would be affected even more than that of the trust. Raisins are going to be sold somehow, for some price, and out of that price the trust will take its rake off of $20 a ton. It will not hurt the trust to lower the price of raisins, so long as it gets that rake-off. If free trade and Spanish competition were to cut down the price, the growers, not the trust, would stand the loss. And the trust would be cinched as tight as ever, for it is girt with a patent.

The tariff does make a difference—all the difference in the world. It can not prevent prices from being sometimes lowered by American conditions, but it can see to it that they are not lowered by Spanish conditions. To lower the tariff is to injure the industry, and to take it off is to destroy the industry. Do we want the raisin industry destroyed, in order to slap the seedling trust? If we do, we had better all move over to Japan, and there follow the national custom of avenging ourselves on our enemy by committing suicide on his doorstep.

"Old Parties Plond Frantically for Contributions," says a Hearst headline. Of course, the "old parties" have putgrown the stage in which they could rely on the patronage of special interests, and they have not yet educated the people to undertake the burden themselves. But how about the Hearst league? It is not "plonding frantically for funds." For it has not yet passed the wealthy patron stage, and it has no people to appeal

OPPOSING TERMINAL RATES

San Francisco merchants are protesting against the efforts of Reno, Nevada, to get terminal freight rates. They say they will lose their Nevada jobbing trade on goods shipped by rail from the East.

Well, why not? Has San Francisco any pre-empted right to deprive Reno of the jobbing trade of Nevada? Other things being equal Reno would have that trade. The fact that Reno does not have it shows that other things are not equal. Some of the inequality is natural. San Francisco will have the advantage of that, permanently. The rest of the inequality is artificial, and establishes no natural right.

If Reno can get terminal rates, it will be a good thing for San Francisco as well as for Reno. But it may not be a good thing for certain San Francisco jobbers. Therefore, fondly deluding themselves that they are the people, they think it would not be good for the general welfare. But it would.

FATAL AUTO WRECK IN MONTEREY COUNTY

High Speeding and an Ignorant Chauffeur Ate Cause of Tragedy Near Salinas.

SALINAS, Cal., Oct. 20.—By the wreck of a big steam automobile at Cumphora, three miles north of Salinas, last night John Hohelt was killed outright and five other men, including the chauffeur, were badly injured.

The dead: John Hohelt. The injured: C. M. Villa, Charles N. Cape, Victor Massera, Charles Lindstrom and L. H. Dickey.

Of the injured it is feared that Victor Massera and L. H. Dickey may die. The machine left Salinas at 7 o'clock last night for Salinas to convey a party of prominent local Deists to attend an initiation ceremony of the order at that place. It was seated L. H. Dickey, the chauffeur; John Hohelt, Victor Massera, C. M. Villa, Charles N. Cape, Charles Lindstrom, and Cumphora the chauffeur, who is reported to have been speeding the machine, lost control at a point where there are two sharp turns in the road. The machine skidded, turned completely over and landed on the side.

Hohelt fell under the machine, and was crushed to death. The others were thrown out, with the exception of Villa, who jumped when he saw the accident was about to occur. He received injuries to his shoulder, but is less hurt than his companions and is the only one who can give an account of the accident. He stated that the wreck was the result of high speeding and the chauffeur's lack of familiarity with the road. Massera, Cape and Lindstrom are suffering from serious internal injuries. The chauffeur, Dickey, received injuries to his back and head. He said that he and his companions' assistance and found Cape face downward in the sand. He would have smothered had Villa not turned him over. Hohelt's body was badly crushed under the machine. The injured were taken to Salinas, where they were brought home.

The chauffeur, Alexander Forbes, attributed the accident to the fact that his lamps went out and he was unable to see the road. The injured man gave his name as James Rogers of 321 South Spring street. Employed at a number of places, including Rogers' identity. The two women refused to give their names. The car, the property of a local garage, was damaged to the extent of $500.

CHARTER AMENDMENTS ATTACKED AS ILLEGAL

Interests in Santa Barbara Try to Prevent Legislature from Acting on Propositions.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Oct. 20.—Claiming that charter amendments passed at the last municipal election are illegal, complaint was filed today by several interests in this city in the name of C. E. Lattin, a taxpayer, against Mayor Boockvar. City officials here and the city of Santa Barbara to secure an injunction preventing the amendments from going to the legislature for ratification. The amendments concern the right of the city to control wharves, condemn wharf property, choose members of the council at large, establish a board of public works, introduce the initiative, referendum and recall. It is claimed that the election is illegal, was called on a legal holiday, and by insufficient votes. A hearing for a permanent injunction until October 25th will be heard before a Los Angeles judge.

IRRIGATION RIGHTS CANNOT BE CONDEMNED

REDDING, Oct. 20.—Judge Head, in the Superior court today decided in favor of the twenty-nine farmers living on Cow Creek in the second suit against the Northern Light and Power company, which sought to condemn their water rights for public use. The court decided virtually that riparian rights could not be condemned for such public service corporation as a power company. This is the first time such an issue has been made in a California court.

MILLION DOLLAR PLANT IS BURNING IN DENVER

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 21.—Fire of unknown origin started in the upper floor of the Hungarian mills at 1 o'clock this morning and quickly got beyond control of the firemen, who were handicapped by the fact that the height of the building made it difficult to throw water to the top. The entire fire apparatus of the city was brought into use but the department could not check the flames. At 2 o'clock the fire was burning fiercely with almost a certainty that the plant would be entirely consumed. If the mill should prove a total loss the damage will be in the neighborhood of a million dollars.

Train Robber Caught in Kansas. WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 20.—In arresting a bootlegger in this city, Sheriff Cordell unintentionally captured an express robber for whom a reward of $1000 is offered. The captured man is R. H. Humphreys, and he is charged with being one of the four men who held up and robbed the express agent at French, N. M., of packages containing $25,000 about two months ago.

THREE JAPANESE WOMEN ARRESTED

Police Are Determined to Keep Cribbs Closed.

Because they refused to comply with the order issued by Chief of Police Shaw, to the effect that every Japanese woman in the city must close her doors and the inmates leave the city within twenty-four hours, three female Japanese residents of the red-light district were placed under arrest last night by Police Detective Farnum and Patrolmen Helms and Bradley. The trio were arrested as a warning to the remaining women that their presence is not needed here. As they were marched through the city streets to the county jail and charged with violating the state law against vagrancy, twelve other Japanese women were seen to leave the tenderloin district by the police.

As the squad returned to the scene of the previous arrests, three vehicles drove hurriedly through the streets and disappeared out of town, the drivers heading their horses toward Salinas. Two of the rigs were surmised to have passengers each and the third was a large tallyho, with a dozen or more women passengers. With what few have departed from the city on north and southbound trains and those who left rather hurriedly last night, the police summed up the situation as it now exists and found that about thirty Japanese women remain. These are known to have been residents of the crib section between F. Tulare and Kern streets, which was closed by Sergeant Coates last night.

The three women arrested last night gave their names as Miss Toki, Miss Toki and Miss Toki. At the county jail they had no sooner been assigned to quarters, than an attorney appeared with releases for the prisoners. The releases were signed by Judge Graham. The defendants will appear in police court this morning and it is probable that the three women pleading not guilty to the charge.

THIRTY DAYS IN JAIL TO TALK POLITICS

Rufus Smith, alias Con Murray, the would-be politician from around the bay, who created a furor in police circles Sunday and Monday by wanting to deliver political speeches and viewed the city from the inside of a black which he refused to pay for, was up before Judge Briggs in the police court yesterday for the second time in two days. The first day he was given a fine. Yesterday he asked the court again for time to get out of town, but the judge thought he had better remain for thirty days, to assist in mowing the lawn in the court house park. The court suggested that he could talk politics to these prisoners who will finish their sentence before November 3.

DEATH FROM CHOLERA ON BOARD OF A TRANSPORT

NAGASAKI, Oct. 20.—The U. S. army transport Buford, sailing from Manila October 15, on route to San Francisco, has been detained here on account of the death of a soldier on board from cholera. Another case has developed, but the patient is recovering. The officers of the Buford say they do not fear a further spread of the disease.

WEATHER

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—The weather is generally fair throughout California. Light snow is falling in Nevada and Utah and low temperatures are reported east of the Sierra. Forecast: San Joaquin Valley: Fair Wednesday; light north winds.

General Conditions.

High barometric pressure occupied the region east of the Mississippi river, with its center over New England. It is accompanied by generally fair and cooler weather. A storm of great intensity has developed over the upper Missouri valley, which has caused general rain or snow within the past twenty-four hours in all sections west of the Mississippi valley, except middle and southern California and Arizona. It is snowing at Portland and Havre. Heavy precipitation occurred in Nebraska, with 3.12 inches and 1.80 inch at North Platte and Omaha, respectively. Cloudy and cool weather prevailed throughout the West, with the exception of the south Pacific slope. Increasing pressure on the Pacific slope indicates fair weather at Fresno and vicinity tonight, with light frost in the morning, followed by fair weather Wednesday.

$2000 IS STILL

NEEDED BY ARMY

Yesterday $300 Added to Building Fund.

Industrial Store One of the Features of the Enterprise of the Army.

The amount raised for the Salvation Army building fund has reached the $2000 mark, a gain of $300 yesterday. O. J. Woodward, who has taken an active interest in the raising of this fund and who has himself been a generous contributor towards it, is of the opinion that the city should offer the engine house on J street for $10,000 to the secretary of buildings, who oversees the work.

If a ready built building of this kind could be secured it would aid greatly in facilitating the work and would enable the army workers to get the building in shape before the coldest winter weather.

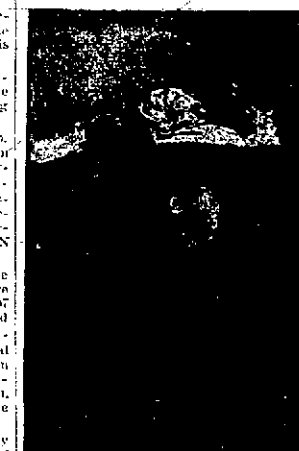

An interesting and helpful feature of the work that the army expects to do in the new building is the establishment of an industrial store, where clothing that is sent in or collected from among the charitable givers in the city can be taken care of and be sold at a small charge, or none at all, as the case may demand.

There is also to be a wood yard as another phase of the charity work. Here an hour or two of work will enable a man to earn a bed for the night or a meal, and the wood will be sold for the benefit of the work. The building is to be in charge of a competent man and his wife and insofar as possible is to be made self-sustaining. The assistants will be drawn largely from among those who themselves are earning their board and lodging.

Free baths will be put in, enabling those who never enjoyed the luxury of a bath to come and avail themselves of hot water, soap and clean towels. A lobby from off the streets who applies here for aid must first submit to a thorough scrubbing with soap and hot water before he is given a bed for the night. His clothes will be thoroughly cleaned and cleaned and in the morning he will chop enough wood to earn his night's lodging. If he refuses to do this he must go to jail for twenty-four hours and then leave town.

Two of the army lassies will be found on the corners of several prominent business streets today to receive donations towards the building fund in the gypsy kettle. This is to enable the country people who perhaps have not been solicited for aid to find their way to the fund and share. Subscriptions to the fund will continue to be received through the Republican office. It is urged that contributors come in today if possible so as to help hurry along the work of getting the building bare of cold winter weather begins. There is $2000 still to be raised.

"AWAY TO WAR" HAS COMEDY AND PATHOS

Gertie Dunlap.

The usual large crowd thronged the Empire again last night to witness the performance, "Away to War." The piece is a comedy drama, with a happy mixture of the serious and the cheerful, bringing frequent laughs and a proper appreciation of feelings to which men and women, entangled in a villainous plot, must be subjected without the actual shedding of tears. Lew Vardoe and Gertie Dunlap furnish the comedy, and C. Rae Braker plays the villain. The balance of the company are well cast, and a pleasing performance is given. A feature of this week's play is the clever specialties introduced between acts.

NEWS OF THE WORLD OF SPORTS

WINNING OF STATE LEAGUE
FLAG DEPENDS ON FRESNO

Although San Jose Is In the Lead, Stockton Has Best Chance, With Sacramento Also In the Running.

The winner of the pennant of 1936 in the California State League is still a matter of conjecture, and as the playing year draws to a close, with eight games yet to be played by each club, interest in one of the most exciting races of years in baseball on the Pacific Coast is at fever heat.

For three weeks ago, the majority of the fans considered that the Stockton club had the flag practically in its grasp for the fourth time in the history of the league. The defeat of the Shamrocks by "Spider" Pappas' Rain City on the fourth of September, which resulted in the leading Stockton on the totem pole. Now the club is in second place, two games behind San Jose, Sacramento is just one game behind Stockton, due to the Senators winning the big and important series of three games at Sacramento last week from the Shamrocks.

With the three leading teams bunched at the top of the heap, the race is still open. The teams begin to rub their eyes and glance at the league schedule for the remainder of the season. Then the followers of the game form into small groups and figure as to which team has the advantage in the remaining four series.

After discussing the chances of the Shamrocks, Senators and Rain City, the fans agree that the winner will be determined by the showing made by Fresno. If the local club puts up the same article that it played against Stockton, for the remainder of the season, the leaders will have to hustle to grab the long end of the series of four yet to be played between the clubs.

But what is the crew to San Jose for two games, following the series with Santa Cruz at Recreation park this week, on November 17th and 18th, the Fresno club boys make their final appearance here. If the Rain City boys can promote the San Jose boys, and manage to split even with San Jose, it means a third hold on fourth place for the Shamrocks. In the early part of the playing season, Santa Cruz, Fresno's closest five straight from the club family. The next trip to the beach city was disastrous to the local club. Bill Duvonch took revenge on the Tigers and administered five defeats out of six games played. That was the last time the club boys were able to split even with Rain City.

Next Saturday and Sunday, they will make their final appearance on the local grounds this season. Manager Dunn says he expects to win both games, as the San Jose boys slump all terribly since their winning streak.

The last cheer tells the truth of final play. The crowd roars and the pitcher's arm is a blur. The pitcher's arm is a blur. The pitcher's arm is a blur.

Now fades the evening landscape on the sight. And all the air is full of sudden rest. And all the air is full of sudden rest. And all the air is full of sudden rest.

Beneath those rugged clouds, that muffled clouds. That muffled clouds, that muffled clouds. That muffled clouds, that muffled clouds.

For there, there is no major league known. No fancy salaries, no big-time money. No fancy salaries, no big-time money. No fancy salaries, no big-time money.

Hunters Find Many on Fire-baugh Reserves.

Quail Hunters Return Discouraged With Outlook for Good Season With Birds.

Local shotgun devotees are considerably worried over the numerous reports received from the foothill and mountain districts regarding the scarcity of quail this season. The scarcity of the game cannot be accounted for, it is stated, although last spring there was every evidence that the birds would abound in countless numbers when the season opened this fall.

But the hunters who have begged the limit in a few hours are accounted for, not only the foothills and mountains were frequented by quail, but the valley hunting grounds were fairly alive with the wily members of the feathered tribe.

When the season closed, the followers of the outdoor sport freely predicted that when the season opened this month, the birds would be plentiful in all sections of the valley.

But this forecast has been amiss in several instances, and the only encouraging reports have come from the valley sections of the valley.

Just across the San Joaquin river and in the vineyards around Parlier, the usual favorable spots for bagging the quail in a few hours are devoid of the usual large bands. The birds also appear to be scarce throughout the country districts, forcing a hunter to travel several miles before getting the usual quota for a few hours' work.

On top of the discouraging reports from quail hunters, are the reports from the west side duck reserves of the different gun clubs. A party of well known shotgun devotees, who have visited the grounds several times, composed of Fred Stone and two or three other members of the Fresno gun club, stated yesterday that the quail section is alive with ducks. It is stated that more ducks abound in the Miller and Lux duck reserve than all other regions usually inhabited by the birds in the valley.
